Essentials of Marketing Research (with Qualtrics Card) By William G. Zikmund, Barry J. Babin

Marketing Research deals with the design, collection, analysis, and reporting of data relevant to a firm's current and future needs. The trend in Marketing Research, aside from using the Internet to quickly capture marketing data, is the focus on the marketing research student as a manager of marketing research and not actually a practitioner of marketing research. This course is typically found in 4-year and MBA programs, and is taught out of the marketing department.

Editorial Review

Review

"An excellent text for first-time marketing research instructors who need a solid foundation for developing a new course prep. A sound text for experienced marketing research instructors who want something more than a 'basics' text but something less than the most comprehensive and challenging texts."
